The title page of the website displays the title of the website with a search bar below it. Below the search bar is a table that displays a list of movies in the database. The table displays the title of the movie, along with the director, runtime, director, and streaming availability of Netflix, Hulu, and Amazon Prime. To search through movies simply type the title into the database and the database will display only movies that match your search criteria. To get more information about a movie simply click on the title of the movie and you will be redirected to that movies information page with a more in depth description of the film.
